

Home Activity

What's Missing

- Find a variety of things around your house, such as a fork, a small toy, a shoe, a pencil, a crayon, and a book.
- Put three of the items on the table or the floor.
- Ask your child to name all three items.
- Have your child close his/her eyes as you take away one item.
- Have your child look at the remaining items and tell you what is missing.
- You can play this game again and again, changing objects, or making it harder by putting more objects out.

- Please take some time to do this activity together with your child.
- Complete and return to your child's teacher.
